

Radio Station K-LOVE is an important part of my family's life. My teenage sons listen to it exclusively. If K-LOVE were to be displaced by an LPFM broadcaster, our whole family would miss the uplifting programming it now provides. The service provided by K-LOVE promotes ethical values, morality, and conscience in our communities. To be deprived of its programming would be an extreme disservice to our families and communities. We parents need to be reinforced in trying to raise our children in an environment which respects families, those in authority, and our government. K-LOVE respects all these in its programming, and it should be encouraged in its worthy endeavor, not shortchanged by having its broadcast impact lessened by the introduction of LPFM stations.
